Talks Relative to Examination for Evening School Teachers

The following interview, relative to examination for evening school teachers, was given The Sun today by Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools.

"As frequent inquiries are made concerning the examination for evening school teachers' certificates it seems only right that some opinion could be expressed at this time relating to the matter.

"According to the rules a public advertisement of the examination must be issued between Aug. 20 and Aug. 30 and the examination must be held not earlier than Sept. 20 or later than Sept. 30. In all probability the advertisement will be published Aug. 21 and the examination will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20, (the earliest possible date, as the time will be brief at best, for acting upon the result of the examination).

"It is the superintendent's opinion—and only his opinion—that the examination for evening elementary teachers will embrace the following: Arithmetic, grammar and composition, spelling, United States history, and reading at sight; that the examination for evening elementary teachers will include a brief written paper on some phase of evening school work, in addition to the subject prescribed for evening elementary teachers.

SUPT. HUGH J. MOLLOY

"For the examination of evening high school teachers the rules prescribe of evening school work, in addition to the subject prescribed for evening elementary teachers.

Despondency due to a severe attack of nervousness drove Asbury F. Adams to suicide, this morning. Mr. Adams kept a grocery and provision store in Bridge street and it was in the store cellar that he ended his life by shooting. He fired two bullets into his head, using a 32 calibre revolver. The tragedy occurred about 8 o'clock and while his two clerks and book-

FOSS STRIKERS STORM

STATE HOUSE TODAY

They Marched Up Beacon Hill and Demanded Hearing by Arbitration
Board—Were Not Received

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Strikers from two Hyde Park manufacturing plants controlled by Gov. Eugene N. Foss stormed the state house today, demanding an immediate hearing of their grievances by the state board of conciliation and arbitration. Chairman Willard Howland refused to receive the men, explaining that the board was occupied "with other matters."

W. Jennings Paton, counsel for the strikers, then appealed to Gov. Foss, insisting that the executive order the state board to receive the petitioners forthwith. The governor, it is understood, replied that he had no authority in the matter.

The advent of the strikers, whose quarrel with the governor has been bitter since the men went out several weeks ago had been heralded and when they reached the state house they found policemen stationed at all the entrances. The party numbering 150 arrived at the South station a little after 10 o'clock and forming in line paraded up Beacon Hill.

A few young women carrying American flags headed the line. Several signs were borne. One read "We want

MAYOR CAUTIONS POLICE OFFICERS

Admonishes Them to Be More Civil With Citizens

Mayor O'Donnell this morning sent a letter to Superintendent Redmond Welch of the local police department, relative to lack of civility on the part of certain police officers in addressing citizens, and the same will be read at roll call this evening. The mayor is in receipt of complaints from citizens of Lowell, who claim some of the patrolmen are not performing their duty in a satisfactory manner. The letter follows:

Redmond Welch, Supt. of Police.
Dear Sir: Will you kindly have the following read at all roll calls:

I desire to caution the members of the police department, in relation to their manner of addressing citizens or others with whom they come in contact, in the performance of their respective duties. While clothed in important authority the police officer is a public servant and should employ civility and common courtesy in his dealings with the public. The fact that a man may have violated the law does not warrant brutality of action or speech on the part of the officer apprehending him.

Firmness and authority can be expressed as forcibly in mild language as in threatening or profane talk, while mild language

may be made impressive to the humblest citizen. This statement applies to all members of the department without regard to rank. Continued to last page

FREE EXHIBITION
OF MANLY ARTGiven In Market Street,
Had Its Sequel In Police CourtWater Wagon Delegation
Scores Another
Run

Louis Macris and Charles Christopoulos gave quite an exhibition performance in the manly art last night in the Market street district and as a result both appeared in police court this morning charged with disturbing the peace. They pleaded guilty and settled a $10 fine.

George Soulas got into trouble for the intention and not the deed when he told a fellow countryman that he was going to give him the licking of his life. The charge against George was threatening and through his counsel, John W. McEvoy, he pleaded guilty. The defence offered was to the effect that the defendant and complainant had quarreled over a young lady but the defendant was too chivalrous to bring the lady's name into police court. In view of the fact that the complainant was greatly alarmed at the threat the defendant was put under $100 bonds to keep the peace for the next six months.

Good Resolution

A man who was sent up to jail the other day to recuperate from an extended drinking bout, was very earnest this morning when Judge Enright asked him if he was going to stop drinking. Banging his fist down upon the bench of the court he exclaimed with vehemence, "Your Honor, I've seen so much drunkenness since I first came into the station that I shall never take another drop of the wicked stuff." His resolution was promptly commended by Chief Welch and he was placed on probation for six months.

Minors in Theatre

Attorney Edward Tierney made a long plea in behalf of Samuel Orbach and Solomon Knepp, charged with admitting minors to the Colonial theatre after eight o'clock at night without being accompanied by an adult. The lawyer asked that the case be quashed against his clients but the case was continued until next Tuesday.

Back to the Mines

Timothy Harrigan and Martin J. McAndrews were sent back to the state farm for continued intoxication. Murray Allison and Patrick Connolly each received a fine of $5 for their second appearance for drunkenness and two first offenders were released by the probation officer.

ATTACKS THE TARIFF BILLCotton Schedule Is Criticised
by Sen. Lippitt
of Rhode IslandSays It Discriminates
Against the Luxuries of the New Englander

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Attacking the cotton schedule of the tariff bill in the senate today, Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island declared that it discriminated against the luxuries of the New Englander in favor of southern-made necessities.

"It is a bill made by southerners," said he. "I do believe that in the consideration of these schedules the gentlemen of the south have had the ear of the committee and the result is shown in this bill with the products of the south protected. I do not in the least object to that but I also think they at least should have been willing to give consideration of the luxuries of the cotton trade even if they are made in New England.

"The rates are out of balance. They are just the capricious and haphazard result of a desire to do something and in the shuffle cotton got the worst of it, very much the worse than was meant or understood."

Senator Lippitt proposed as a substitute for the cotton schedule the rates of the Dingley bill less 20 per cent, which would leave the average duties of 30-40 per cent, as against the rates in the pending bill ranging from 7-12 to 30 per cent.

CHURCH OPENED
300 YEARS AGOExercises Commemorating Establishment of Catholic Parish in Bar Harbor, Me., Held Today

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 6.—Exercises were held today commemorating the landing at Fernald's Point in May, 300 years ago of the three Jesuit fathers, a Jesuit lay brother and a score of laymen from France who formed the first and only Catholic church at that time in all the North American continent, except perhaps Florida, Mexico and California, and maintained it until the following September, when they were killed or taken prisoners by the English from Virginia.

Today included the dedication of a handsome stone church for the Church of "The Most Holy Redeemer." Delegate from Pope Leading dignitaries of the Catholic church were present. The special guest of honor was the apostolic delegate, the Most Rev. John Bonzano, D. D., who came from Washington especially designated as the representative of Pope Pius X. Bishop Louis Walsh of Portland, under whose direction the arrangements for the services were made and the bishops from every state in New England besides many Maine priests and laymen were in attendance. Many summer visitors of prominence were in the audience.

Solemn Pontifical Mass

A solemn pontifical mass for the dedication was offered by the apostolic delegate, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor M. C. McDonough, vicar general of the Portland diocese, as assistant priest, Revs. Thomas P. Butler of Lewiston and Arthur Hamel of Westbrook as deacons of honor; Rev. T. P. Linehan of Biddeford as deacon and Rev. Henry Gory of Waterville as sub-deacon of the mass. The masters of ceremonies were Revs. James A. Carey of Hallowell and P. E. Desjardins of Skowhegan.

Address by Bishop Walsh

The dedicatory address was delivered by Bishop Louis Walsh of Portland. He said in part: "Three hundred years ago today on a sloping hillside, almost within the shadow of this church, a group of some 30 persons knelt in a rude chapel around a cross and altar and praised the Lord in the holy sacrifice of the Eucharist or holy mass."

"If asked the name of the settlement, colony and mission they would have replied: 'Saint Sauveur,' 'Holy Redeemer.' They were all Frenchmen, with groups of Indians nearby, and four black-robed Jesuits in their midst. That scene of 1613 is the reason and motive of our gathering here today."

To France rightfully belongs the honor that chivalry and apostolic zeal merit for her great, heroic deeds along this coast 300 or 400 years ago.

Only Church in North America

"From May to September, 1613, that little slope of land was the only spot in all New England where the black-robed Jesuit, the white men from France and the Indians formed a Christian family and were the Catholic church in and of New England; and, more, the only Catholic church in all the North American continent, excepting, perhaps, Florida, Mexico and California."

"In the hour of hope and sunshine the mission was quickly, totally, brutally destroyed. On a bright September day four months after its auspicious beginning, while the fathers, colonists and Indians were at work a vessel came sailing on fast at them."

"Was it a friend from far away France or an enemy? Soon the red flag and pointed guns told their story and stirred the French hearts to fury and fear. It was the fiery red cross of England and her corsairs from Virginia, who had come, perhaps for fish and commerce but also with standing orders to sweep the colonies of France from the ocean and especially from the land that was claimed by Algon from Florida to New Foundland."

"The hour and plan were well chosen by the English. It was soon all over and the fleur de lys of France was lowered to the red cross of England under James I."

In conclusion, Bishop Walsh noted that the bishops are here from every state in New England, and added:

Blessing From Pope

"Above all the Holy Father is here, supreme shepherd of Rome and Christendom in the person of his august representative, to bless us all and to sanctify this day. Your excellency was willing to sacrifice your life as a young missionary in China, you then know better than we, the mind and heart of the first missionaries to this island."

After the solemn ceremonies of this morning a banquet was given in honor of the apostolic delegate, the bishops and the clergy.

MRS. LAMBEER SENDS MESSAGE TO DEAD HUSBAND—INQUEST TOMORROW

Mrs. WILLIAM LAMBEER

LONG BEACH, L. I., Aug. 6.—William L. Vanderbilt, Jr., the first witness in the inquiry held yesterday at the Nassau hotel by Chairman Martin S. Decker of the public service commission, told a graphic story of the events Sunday night which led to and just followed the fatal collision of J. Osgood Pell's automobile with a Long Island train at the Wreck Landing crossing, resulting in the deaths of Mr. Pell, William Lambeer and Charles Gammon, the chauffeur.

Mr. Vanderbilt said Mr. Pell himself drove the machine. He himself did not know there had been an accident until he came up to the crossing and found the road blocked by the train, leaving Mrs. Pell who was with him in his machine, he walked forward, discovered that the train which had been his dinner guests were killed, and hurried Mrs. Pell back to the hotel before she should hear that her husband was killed.

Mr. Vanderbilt said he did not hear any whistle by the locomotive nor did he see the train approaching. When he observed it later he did not notice the said, whether some of the forward cars were not lighted, as reported.

George T. Easton, telegrapher of the train, testified that he sounded the whistle 1200 feet from the crossing, shut off power and allowed his train

STACKS OF TROUBLE

In a Hayfield in North Billerica and It is Up to the Court to Slow Them Away

The Biggerstaffs and the Martins, both Billerica families, had quite a session yesterday afternoon in the police court. Mr. Biggerstaff and Mr. Martin were both charged with assault and battery upon a member of the other's family and the entire afternoon was consumed by the case without a settlement being reached.

The trouble grew out of an inter-family squabble in a hay field which is between the two houses of the families. Trouble had been brewing between them for some time but this affair was the culmination. Each family wanted to get possession of the field at the same time and the result was a series of blows and blood was spilled on both sides. It required the services of Dr. Maurice A. Buck and the ambulance to restore the members of the respective families wounded in battle.

W. A. Hogan appeared as counsel for Mrs. Biggerstaff and Frank Goldman appeared for Mr. Martin. The case was uncompleted at five o'clock when court adjourned and will be continued next Monday in the regular session of police court.

ARMY OF 7000 LEAVES TO OPERATE AGAINST REBELS

Reported That Castro Has 12,000 Men Under His Command—Telephone Communications Interrupted

CARACAS, Venezuela, Aug. 6.—An army of 7000 men, comprising three brigades, divided into seven regiments of infantry and one of artillery, left Caracas yesterday to operate against the rebel followers of ex-President Cipriano Castro. The brigade commanders are General Emilio Fernandez, General David Gimon and General Torrelia Ornela. General Felix Galarza has been appointed chief of staff of the army. A medical corps, with Sisters of Charity acting as nurses, accompanied the government's fighting forces.

President Juan Vicente Gomez left the capital today and will lead the army to Maracay, on the railroad, 30 miles southwest of Caracas. During his absence, command will be exercised by General Torrelia Ornela. General Felix Galarza will act as chief executive of the republic.

An unknown steamship which is presumed to belong to Cipriano Castro is reported to have passed Laguna. Telegraphic communication between Caracas and Maracay is interrupted.

Castro Has 12,000 Men

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Aug. 6.—Ex-President Cipriano Castro, in his revolutionary campaign to overthrow the Gomez administration and to remain the presidency of Venezuela, has under his command, according to the latest advices received here, 12,000 men.

General Castro is reported to have been received enthusiastically by the people when he landed at Coro, in the state of Falcon. He is said to be marching against Barquisimeto, the capital of the state of Lara, at the head of a force estimated to total 4000 men.

Two of Castro's adherents, General Rosario Gonzales and General Penuela, who crossed into Venezuelan territory from the Colombian frontier with 3000 followers, are reported to be augmenting their rebel army as they proceed through the inland towns.

Blew Up With Roar at Reading

People in the Vicinity Dodged Iron Barrels and Shower of Bricks

READING, Aug. 6.—People in the immediate vicinity of the Sanford mills dodged iron barrels and a shower of bricks yesterday afternoon when the large storehouse in the mill yard blew up with a roar that was heard for miles, causing a damage of $20,000. Heavy iron barrels, containing 50 gallons of a mixture of naphtha, lamp-black and solvent, went flying through the air like cannon balls.

The brick walls of the storehouse showed the neighborhood in a radius of several hundred yards. No one was in the building at the time, as the plant, which manufactures artificial leather, has been shut down for several days. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The storehouse, a one-story brick building, with a roof of steel construction, was wrecked. Three floors of the walls were blown away five feet into the air and dropped in a vacant lot.

There were 50 barrels of the lamp-black mixture and 10 gallons of celluloid in the building at the time. Twenty-five of the barrels exploded. Some of the others were hurled through the main factory building, in which 500 panes of glass were broken.

FOUR WEEKS REMAIN

Closing of Library Contest a Month Off

In less than four weeks from today, the library of ballots will be cast, and hundreds of voters who will have exhausted their wits at vote producing will settle back, with hearts beating alternately between hope and despair, to await the verdict which will spell defeat or victory in the big contest. These few weeks are speeding by rapidly, and every moment is precious to those sincere and earnest in the good work.

Since the 3. P. O. Elias has taken the lead, even if only by a small majority, they are in the No. 1 class. The members of this club were among the first to avail themselves of the big vote given by The Sun in the coupon. They were apparently intent upon jumping to the top last week and bravely succeeded. But to attain this end even by a small majority, is great cause for rejoicing and no doubt congratulations have been in order the past few days. As previously stated, it is not a question of numbers, but of strength in the art of vote getting, but unity of purpose. A couple of hundred hustlers who will not play soldier and lose three chances to vote where they embrace one, but will go about the matter in a serious earnest way, realizing that there is no expense attached to it, and that a library such as the one in evidence is a value worth such effort, that it is a great honor to come out the victor in an affair of such ponderous local importance, can do more than a thousand persons who go about the work haphazard, and without organization.

However, from the Y. M. C. A. down the list to the bottom, there are still candidates for the magnificent prize and any one of them may capture the prize. The public does some queer things, sometimes.

Prepare for the three BIG PREMIUM RED LETTER DAYS Thursday, Friday and Saturday for this opportunity to cast hundreds of thousands of votes may prove the bridge to the highest achievement. Plan a charge on all the ballot boxes on these days and cement victory for your organization or institution.

NUMBER PLEASE PROVES SUCCESS

Telephone Users Affected by Tone of Exchange Operators

Man With Grouch Becomes a Real Nice Man

How many times a day do you say "Please?" Of course, when you ask for a second piece of pie for dinner you smile and say "Please," and there are many other times, but it is safe to say you don't say it more than 25 times during the ordinary day.

They are the telephone operators in the exchanges of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company. The rule requiring the operators to say "Number, please," went into effect, officially, a few days ago. The telephone operator who works the usual period daily answers about 800 calls a day. When the little red lights shine brightly before her, she "plugs in" and sweetly murmurs: "Number, please."

Some men—they are very few—had the impression when the rule was first made that the winsome maid on the other end of the wire was trying to start a flirtation. They perhaps flattered themselves that their voice was deep and manly. The telephone girl never flirts, that is, over the telephone.

Man on my board who was the worst grouch I ever heard. He yelled into the receiver and grunted his numbers. During two days after the new rule he gradually softened and on the third day, when I answered a call, he said "000, please." Now he talks like a "real nice man."

Time taken—How much time does it take to say "please?" It doesn't take much time to say it once. But saying it time and time again during the day requires time. One may say it took a half a second to say "please," along with "number." If such is the case the telephone girl answering 800 calls takes up 400 seconds of time. In other words she requires six minutes and 40 seconds more a day in doing her work. Although these are the figures, the telephone operators themselves and the officials, say it takes no extra time to say the required "please." They claim that no time is lost and that they are able to do as much work just as rapidly as before. If this is so with the operators, it must also apply to the subscriber who is polite enough to say please.

The "please" is said only by the person using the phone. In calling a person out of town, the operators call the central office in that town and give the operator the number as formerly, without the "please." This rule is made because the operator called would nearly half of the time think the one calling said "2222 ring three," as phrase sounds similar some times to three.

RENT EXCEEDS SALARY

Ambassador to Germany to Consult Pres. Wilson

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, with his wife and her sister, the Countess Anton Sigray, left for Hamburg at noon today to embark on the America for the United States tomorrow. Mr. Gerard succeeded, aided by the newspaper versions of the house-hunting difficulties, in finding two suitable houses for his residence in Berlin. One of them is in the aristocratic Tiergarten district and the other near the center of the city. The rental of each is about $13,000 annually, thus exceeding the ambassador's salary by $1500. Each one of the residences contains ample room for the embassy offices and private quarters as well as for entertaining purposes. Mr. Gerard will, before deciding on taking a lease of a house, discuss the situation with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan when he comes to Washington.

VETERAN FIREMEN MET IN BOSTON

Fred Rourke Elected Chief Marshal of Muster Parade

A meeting of the members of the New England Veteran Firemen's association was held in Boston yesterday with President James H. Walker of this city in the chair. The various committees in charge of the arrangements of the muster which is to be held in this city on Aug. 28, reported progress, and the chairman appointed the following committee to act as judges for the muster: Capt. Herber of Lowell, Capt. Shallow of Boston, Edward Walker of Somerville, M. Whitman of Cranston, R. L. Perkins of Albion, R. L. Charles of Salem, William Maybury of Braintree, Geo. Cushing of Hingham, John Hardigan of Newton. The timekeeper will be W. Adamson of East Boston.

It was announced that the positions for the parade and the muster will be given the night of Aug. 27, at the headquarters, Park hotel.

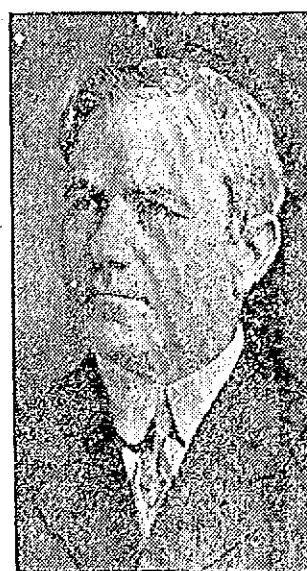

Play-Out on Common—One thousand people gathered on the North Common last evening to witness the play-out between two crews of the Gen. Butler V. F. A., manning the old masheen, "City of Lowell," that holds the world's championship with a record of 259 feet 6 inches, and the new tub "Liberty," a recent arrival from Gold Hill, Nevada.

The contest was won by the "Liberty," a St. Louis fireman, with a play of 239 feet 4 inches. The city of Lowell, James Curry, foreman, made a play of 201 feet 5 inches.

After the contest, a reunion of present and former members was held at the rooms and a pleasant evening was passed with song and story.

The muster committee in charge of the league muster to be held in Lowell Thursday, Aug. 28, 1913, held their regular weekly meeting, with Chairman James H. Walker presiding.

Sec. H. E. Clay reported circulars and entry blanks would be mailed this week, and from indications, about 45 machines would be in line that day.

Mr. Fred H. Rourke accepted an invitation to be chief marshal of the parade that day, in a neat speech, promising to do all in his power to further the welfare of the muster.

Mr. Wm. W. Murphy reported for the league meeting, which he had attended, that great interest had been shown in the muster to be held at the home of the league president, James H. Walker, and a good turnout was assured.

The finance committee again appeals to the people of Lowell to contribute towards an affair that will bring 100,000 people to our city.

On next Tuesday evening, the "Liberty" crew will give a return match to the crew of the city of Lowell on the North common.

AUTO CRASHED INTO A TREE

Woman Probably Fatally Injured—Others Had Narrow Escape

Mrs. Fisher Loses Control of Machine In Winchester

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—One woman was hurt, perhaps fatally, while another and two men escaped death by the barest margin yesterday when an automobile owned by E. L. Gillette, a wealthy carriage manufacturer of Somerville, crashed into a tree on Forest street, Winchester, spilling all of its occupants.

Gillette was not in the car. Mrs. Minnie Fisher, 61, West Rutland square, this city, was at the wheel. She lost control, and before any of her companions could grasp the wheel the machine ploughed its way zig-zag across the street and fetched up against the tree.

Mrs. Fisher was catapulted from her seat and landed on her head several feet away. She was picked up unconscious with a crushed chest and severe internal injuries. Peter H. Babbin of 15 Whitney park, Mattapan, who was riding on the front seat with her, and Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Marshall, Gillette's daughter and son-in-law, who were riding in the tonneau, were hurled to the ground.

Babbin, however, was the only one severely injured. He sustained a broken knee-cap and was taken to the Winchester hospital. Later he was removed to a hospital in Mattapan. Several persons were attracted by the accident, and after Mrs. Fisher had been treated by a physician she was placed in a passing auto and taken to her home. It was reported last night that her condition was serious.

The party had been motoring in Stoneham and was proceeding at a fairly high rate of speed down Forest street. As a corner was rounded, Mrs. Fisher saw a steamroller and a watering cart directly ahead. Braking for the moment, she pressed hard on the accelerator instead of the brake, and before she could rectify the mistake lost control. The car dived in and out between the steamroller and the watering cart and climbed an embankment by the roadside before it struck the tree.

It is claimed that after following the girl from Boston he drew a revolver in front of her home and told her that he intended to shoot her.

The young man and the girl, who works in the military department of the store where McAviney is a cashier, have been keeping company for some time, but a few days ago had a quarrel.

100 Attending Methodist Exercises Fled—Forest Fires Destroy 20 Square Miles of Woodland

YARMOUTH, Aug. 6.—Four hundred persons attending the annual Methodist camp meeting near here fled from their devotional exercises yesterday afternoon when a south wind sprang up and turned the forest fire that was advancing threateningly upon West Yarmouth so that it bore down upon them.

While between 500 and 600 caps residents, summer and permanent, fought the flames that have already destroyed 20 square miles of valuable woodland, the camp meeting attendants left the tabernacle hurriedly in the midst of a service, gathered up their belongings into any and every available vehicle of transportation, and scattered to Yarmouth and Hyannis.

SHE IS SANE

SWAMPSCOTT WOMAN LIBERATED AT LYNN

Taken Into Custody But Freed by Court—Wrote Letter Threatening to Create Scare at Wedding

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Annie L. R. Mahoney of Swampscott is receiving the congratulations of friends over her acquittal in the Lynn court of the charge of insanity, for which she had been taken into custody.

After an examination by two physicians, Drs. J. F. O'Hea and J. A. Jones, the woman was discharged. "I thank God that the curse that has been over me for seven years has been lifted, and my persecutors can no longer hound me, and put me in a wrong light before the public by claiming I am insane," declared Mrs. Mahoney as she came from the court room.

In ordering her discharge the court warned Mrs. Mahoney against writing letters which might annoy persons to whom she had sent letters or directed her language.

Mrs. Mahoney first came into public attention when she threatened to create a scare at the wedding of Assistant United States District Attorney E. Mark Sullivan, which took place at Syracuse, N. Y. She attempted to have Mr. Sullivan arrested on a simple charge of larceny, but a warrant was refused by the courts.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The song "America" was censured as un-American, and the "Star Spangled Banner" indorsed as the national anthem at yesterday's session of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein. A resolution was adopted that the Central Verein will promote the National "Star Spangled Banner" centennial commemoration the event which gave Francis Scott Key the inspiration for his composition.

Fred Prodehl, chairman of the committee on marking historical points, appointed by the mayor of Baltimore said that besides the patriotic, there

500 Awaiting Little Girl Who Picked Up Diamond Brooch at Salisbury Recently

Chief of Police Samuel Beckman of Salisbury has $50 in his pocket, waiting for some little girl, but he does not know who she is, and the money is going to stay in the police station safe until the child appears, together with the proof that she is the one who found the valuable diamond brooch last Saturday at Salisbury beach by Mrs. Nelson Morris, wife of the wealthy Chicago packer.

Mrs. Morris lost the brooch Saturday when she stepped from her auto to visit the beach. Upon discovering the loss, a reward of $50 was offered, and posters announcing it were spread over the beach.

A little girl found the brooch, which was a diamond studded crescent. She gave it to a police officer, who returned it to Mrs. Morris. The $50 was immediately sent to Chief Beckman, and he is now awaiting the child's appearance.

HIGH DUTY FOR AUTOS

45 Per Cent. Tariff Rate
on First Grade Cars

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Senate democrats succeeded yesterday for the first time in speeding up consideration of the tariff bill, making considerable progress in the metal schedule, despite protests of Senators Oliver, Smith of Michigan, Cummins and Smoot against many of the rates.

Automobile Rates

Chief opposition centered in the rates on automobiles, which the committee fixed at 15 per cent. on cars valued at $1000 or less, 36 per cent. on cars valued at more than $1000 and less than $1500, 45 per cent. on cars valued at $1500 and over, and 30 per cent. on automobile parts. Senators Cummins and Smoot both insisted that the rates on completed cars would be useless, because all foreign cars would be brought in at the 30 per cent. rate in parts. Senator Thomas for the finance committee said he could see no calamity if all automobiles came in at 30 per cent. The other rates, Senator Cummins asserted, were a "mere pretence," and he advocated a flat duty on all automobiles of 25 per cent. Senator Williams remarked "there are a lot of fools in this country that will insist upon completed foreign cars, thinking they are better and these rates are fixed for them."

The rates were not changed.

HOSPITAL UP TO STATE

Fall River Too Poor, Says
Dr. Gifford

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The state to construct and maintain tuberculosis hospitals in cities and towns was the advice given the state house committee investigating the matter by Dr. John H. Gifford, vice president of the Fall River chamber of commerce.

The committee yesterday took up the case of Fall River, which, like many other cities, has failed to build a hospital and is liable to prosecution by the state board of health.

Dr. Gifford declared it to be impossible in the case of Fall River and explained his views in detail.

His suggestion of state tuberculosis hospitals is regarded as an important one by the members of the committee who are to make a report to the next legislature.

Dr. Gifford said that Fall River was spending $50,000 a year for the work. It cannot borrow money for a hospital because it has already borrowed up to its debt limit. To use the money now used for the care of patients would deprive them of treatment.

He urged that the state should either assume the burden of the construction of the hospitals or provide a subsidy. He said that if the state can pay five-ninths of the maintenance of hospitals, as it does today, it can pay five-ninths of the cost of construction.

Dr. Gifford said that of 1315 cases treated at state sanitarium last year 500 came from Boston and only 20 from Fall River. He emphasized the point that Boston cases get into the hospitals and that patients from other places did not.

He said that it would be most unwise to have the state board of health enforce the law requiring cities and towns to build hospitals.

TAME FINISH

BERLIN COURT MARTIAL CONVICTS
SEVEN MEN

No Officer of High Rank Found Guilty
—Were Charged With Accepting Bribes

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 6.—The sensational charge that officials of the Prussian war office had accepted bribes from the Krupp company in return for military documents, which were made in the Reichstag in April by Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the socialist deputy, came to a rather tame ending yesterday with the conviction by court-martial of seven unimportant persons connected with the ordnance board, of whom the highest ranked only as junior lieutenants. The convicted men were charged specifically with betraying military secrets, the acceptance of bribes and insubordination.

Lieut. Tillan was sentenced to two months' imprisonment; Lieut. Schleuder and Lieut. Hinst each to four months, and Lieut. Hoge to serve 42 days in a fortress. Tillan, Schleuder and Hinst in addition lose their commissions.

I. W. W. RIOTERS JAILED

Men Arrested During
Strike Trouble

BROCKTON, Aug. 6.—In police court yesterday afternoon, Judge Reed imposed jail sentences on the four men arrested following the riot July 29 in front of the W. W. Cross tannery factory where an I. W. W. strike is on.

Patrolman Bryan testified that one of the men sentenced, Peter Markaravicz, 42 years old, of 116 Ames street, had said at the police station after his arrest that one of the I. W. W. organizers in charge of the strike passed around word to "start something" on the afternoon of the riot, and that it was generally understood an attempt was to be made to kill L. E. Easton, a special policeman on guard at the factory and especially disliked by the strikers.

Officer Bryan's testimony was corroborated in its essentials by George Romanus, the Lithuanian interpreter of the police court, who talked with Markaravicz following the latter's arrest. The name of the organizer was not mentioned in court.

Markaravicz denied yesterday that he had made the statements attributed to him, and insisted that he had been picking blueberries when caught in the

She hid in the closet and closed the door, which had been recently varnished. She was found yesterday by a real estate agent who was showing prospective buyers through the house. The door had stuck and the girl had been unable to open it.

A VERY HEROIC ACT

Young Greek Displays True Spartan Spirit

AND AN EMBLEMATIC FRANTIC WOMAN RESCUEE MUCH

Demosthenes Dashed Into the Thames —No, Not the Thames, the Canal, and Rescued a Toy Spaniel

A little unknown American dog owes his life to the fact that Demosthenes Georgeopoulos came here to get a job in the Tremont & Suffolk mills. In fact, imaginative people can see a connection between the brave rescue and the fact that Demosthenes was looking the other way when the king of Greece called for volunteers to fight the Bulgarians. "There are more things in heaven and earth," but the quotation is overworked, so we wisely refrain.

To return to our story: It was not as a long distance swimmer that the brave Greek made the rescue—it was merely as a wader. Yet the success of the rescue very probably depended on the fact that he was familiar with the canal bottom, having washed his feet there many times. The story comes from an aviator who had stopped his airplane on top of the Root mill chimney and was forced to look in the direction of the Suffolk canal to avoid getting smothered. This is the story:

Demosthenes Georgeopoulos was standing on the parapet of the Fenwick street bridge one evening recently when a woman rushed up to him with horror written in every feature. Not knowing Greek, she made some frantic signs in the direction of the canal that made the brave Greek think she had a desire to enact a "September Morn" tableau. Having a soul for the aesthetic, he waited and gradually realized that the woman wished him to save her dog, which was slowly but surely being overcome in the swirling waters. What did Demosthenes do? Listen all ye who admire brave and modest deeds. He ran down the bank and waded to the struggling animal. Deeper and deeper the water grew. Now it was up to his knees, now to his waist, now to his armpits, now—but no. With one wild swoop and a cry of victory, he seized the gasping animal and carried it safely to shore. The dog did not need even artificial respiration, but the woman had to be doused several times in the canal water before she acted normally. She turned four handsprings and danced the tango with Demosthenes in the excess of her joy.

Demosthenes did not have a visiting card and he did not take the address of either dog or the woman. But when that dog grows up, if he is the right sort of a dog, and if he is intelligent enough to be grateful for favors received, he may realize that Demosthenes' emigration to America, his failure to go to the war and the fact that he was loafing that evening, were due to some special dispensation of the Greek gods. And perhaps it was. Who can tell?

Unfortunately before this story goes to press, news comes that the little dog was a toy which the woman won on the cornice last July 4th. It somewhat spoils the story, but it detracts nothing from the brave deed of Demosthenes Georgeopoulos.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The 28,000 ton Argentine dreadnaught Rivadavia arrived in New York early today from the Fore River shipbuilding yards, Quincy, Mass., where she was constructed to go into the drydock at the Brooklyn navy yard to be painted. The government extended the use of the drydock, the one at Fore River not being large enough, to accommodate the Rivadavia. On the trip from Boston the battleship was manned by a crew of 500 men from the Fore River works and had on board a party of Argentine naval officers. When the work at the navy yard is finished she will have her trials off Rockland, Me.

MULHALL ASKS DELAY

Examination Postponed Until Friday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Examination of Martin Mulhall, self styled lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers was postponed today by the house lobby committee until Friday at the request of Mulhall, who announced that in the last few days he had discovered in his files in Baltimore some 200 additional letters bearing on national politics and he believed that if given a few days he would be able to discover more. He said the letters found were important and that some contradicted testimony already given by Rep. Fairchild.

Mulhall insisted he needed a rest. "Furthermore, I am celebrating my 51st birthday today and have been invited home," said he.

The committee excused him until Friday, granted his request to have counsel during his examination, but withheld decision on his invitation to the committee to send a representative to Baltimore to assist him in going through his files.

SHOT HIMSELF ON WEDDING DAY

Man Fired Two Shots Into Breast —Discovering He Wasn't Dead He Fired Two More at Head

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 6.—Frank Welter, a barber, this morning dressed himself carefully and completed all arrangements for his wedding, scheduled to take place at nine o'clock. He then went to his room and fired two shots into his breast. Discovering he was not dead he fired another shot at his head but sustained no injury other than a flesh wound. Then he pulled the trigger of the revolver again but the bullet went wild. When persons arrived to remove him to the hospital he refused their help and walked unaided to the ambulance. It is believed he will recover. Welter gave no reason for his act.

SEN. CLARK WANTS IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION OF THE CONDITION OF AMERICANS IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Wilson's action in sending former Governor John Lind to Mexico as a special emissary in the present situation was attacked in the senate today by Senator Clark of Wyoming, who declared "something else must be done by the administration to guarantee adequate protection to Americans."

Senator Clark presented a resolution for an immediate investigation by the senate foreign relations committee of the condition of American citizens and American property in Mexico.

"This resolution is not introduced in spirit of hostility to the administration or of criticism of the foreign relations committee," declared the senator, "but conditions are growing steadily worse in Mexico. Now we learn that Governor Lind has been sent there by President Wilson. That does not satisfy."

"Mr. Lind does not go as the official representative of the United States; he does not go as an ambassador clothed with authority to represent the United States. He cannot be appealed to by American citizens for protection. Some other steps are necessary to give to Americans and American property the protection they need and are demanding."

The home of Mrs. Annie Plimpton, 3 Favor street, was the scene of a pretty party last night when a large number of friends of Miss Ethel French gathered there and showered her with many beautiful and useful gifts. During the evening the musical selections were given by Miss Annie M. Young, Miss Mabel Sykes and Mr. Everett Nix. The party broke up at a seasonable hour after a very enjoyable evening. Miss French is soon to become a bride.

EMPLOYEES OF MACHINE SHOP

Addressed by Organizer for International Asso. of Machinists—New Lodge for Lowell

Frank Young of Boston, organizer for the International Association of Machinists, addressed a noon-day gathering at the gates of the Saco-Lowell shops in Dutton st. yesterday. He addressed over 200 men and the meeting was a very enthusiastic one. Quite a number of ex-members of the union were present and expressed a desire to get back into the fold again. Mr. Young discussed the proposition of better wages, shorter hours and better shop conditions.

Last night the Merrimack valley joint committee met with Lowell lodge, I. A. of M. in Cotton Spinners hall, and voted that the local lodge relinquish jurisdiction over this territory to the end that an entirely new lodge shall be installed here and a new charter was opened accordingly.

Distribution of Literature

The question of the distribution of literature was taken up and Organizer Young told of his interview with Mayor O'Donnell and City Solicitor Hennessey. It was found, he said, that there is a city ordinance which absolutely prohibits the distribution of any pamphlet, book, circular or notice, under penalty of a $20 fine.

It was the sense of the meeting that there should be discretion regarding the enforcement of this ordinance, and that the distribution of literature should be under proper restrictions and subject to supervision by proper authorities.

Mr. Young says it is the intention of the Merrimack Valley committee to submit an amendment to the ordinance at the next meeting of the municipal council which will allow discretion in its enforcement, the discretion to be exercised by some responsible officer of the city, presumably the mayor.

BillERICA SELECTMEN

Chose Precinct Officers For Ensuing Year

The BillERICA board of selectmen met in the town hall. The principal business to come before the meeting was the apportioning of precinct officers to serve for the term of one year. # LOWELL MAN KILLED STABBED IN THE BACK

Was Run Over by Train Fierce Street Fight in

in Wisconsin Attleboro

CYCLISTS HOOTED AND RETURNED TO CLEAN OUT CROWD

One Boy Was Shot—Men Hooted to Gutter—Belonged to Worst One Man Pulled Out Revolver

ATTLEBORO, Aug. 6.—Five bicyclists riding through Attleboro last night, who were hooted by a crowd of young men and boys from the sidewalks, jumped from the machines, and in the fight that followed a young man, Joseph Lafayette, 23, was shot in the thigh, and Nelson Lee, 18, was stabbed three times in the back.

One of the bicycle riders, giving his name as Tony Romain, was arrested by the police. He is charged with stabbing Nelson Lee, who is the son of William J. Lees, chief of the Pawtucket fire department.

The man who did the shooting escaped in the woods near by. It was about 5:30 o'clock last night when the general fight took place. A half dozen or more young men and boys were standing at the corner of Washington street and Mendon avenue South Attleboro, when a party of bicyclists rode by. Some of the bystanders hooted at them.

The bicycle riders alighted at once and placing their bikes against the curb went up to the crowd. The foremost struck one in the crowd and at once a general fighting was on. For a few minutes the men rolled in the gutter. The bicyclists were getting the worst of the fistful argument when one of them breaking the hold on him, whipped out a revolver and shot Lafayette.

At the same time, Romain was struggling with two young men in the middle of the road. He broke away, and then with furious run dashed into the crowd stabbing it. It is said, young Lee in the back three times.

As soon as the pistol shot rang out, all the bicyclists tried to break from the crowd and make their escape. They all succeeded with the exception of Romain. He got on his machine and started when two young men pushed the machine over and snatched him until Patrolman Mills, who heard the shot, came up and placed him under arrest.

Lafayette was taken to the Memorial hospital at Pawtucket. Lees insisted on being brought to his home, where physicians were summoned. It is thought that neither of the young men are fatally wounded.

SOME SENTENCE

Dover Judge Gave Reckless Autoist Six Months and Attaches $100 Fine

DOVER, Aug. 6.—The heaviest sentence ever given an automobile driver in this section was imposed by Judge Frost of the district police court yesterday when he imposed a six months jail sentence and a fine of $100 and costs upon Fred Robinson of Springvale, Me., formerly of Somersworth, for driving a five-passenger car recklessly over the state road between this city and Dover Point while under the influence of liquor Sunday.

Robinson pleaded guilty and asked for leniency, saying among other things that he had been out all night without sleep, with an automobile party. City Marshal Adams stated that he had received a previous complaint of Robinson's reckless driving.

Robinson was arrested by Mounted Officer Frank W. Jones. The officer testified that the respondent was badly under the influence of liquor, and by steering his car from one side of the road to the other, took up the entire highway, endangering the lives of all persons coming in the opposite direction. Robinson appealed from the sentence imposed, and was ordered to furnish $300 bail for his appearance at superior court in September.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Talks Relative to Examination for Evening School Teachers

The following interview, relative to examination for evening school teachers, was given The Sun today by Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools.

"As frequent inquiries are made concerning the examination for evening school teachers' certificates it seems only right that some opinion could be expressed at this time relative to the matter.

"According to the rules a public advertisement of the examination must be issued between Aug. 20 and Aug. 25 and the examination must be held not earlier than Sept. 25 or later than Sept. 30. In all probability the advertisement will be published Aug. 21 and the examination will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20 (the earliest possible date, as the time will be brief at best for getting upon the result of the examination).

"It is the superintendent's opinion—and only his opinion—that the examination for evening elementary teachers will embrace the following: Arithmetic, grammar and composition, spelling, United States history, and reading at sight. That the examination for evening elementary teachers will include a brief written paper on some phase of evening school work, in addition to the subject prescribed for evening elementary teachers.

FOSS STRIKERS STORM STATE HOUSE TODAY

They Marched Up Beacon Hill and Demanded Hearing by Arbitration Board—Were Not Received

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Strikers from two Hyde Park manufacturing plants controlled by Gov. Eugene F. Foss stormed the state house today, demanding an immediate hearing of their grievances by the state board of conciliation and arbitration. Chairman Willard Howland refused to receive the men, explaining that the board was occupied with other matters.

W. Jennings Patton, counsel for the strikers, then appealed to Gov. Foss, insisting that the executive order the state board to receive the petitioners forthwith. The governor, it is understood, replied that he had no authority in the matter.

Parade Up Beacon Hill

The advent of the strikers, whose quarrel with the governor has been bitter since the men went out several weeks ago had been heralded and when they reached the state house they found policemen stationed at all the entrances. The party numbering 150 arrived at the South station a little after 10 o'clock and forming in line paraded up Beacon Hill.

A few young women carrying American flags headed the line. Several signs were borne. One read "We want

MAYOR CAUTIONS POLICE OFFICERS

Admonishes Them to Be More Civil With Citizens

Mayor O'Donnell this morning sent a letter to Superintendent Redmond Welch of the local police department, relative to lack of civility on the part of certain police officers in addressing citizens, and the same will be read at roll call this evening. The mayor is in receipt of complaints from citizens of Lowell who claim some of the patrolmen are not performing their duty in a satisfactory manner. The letter follows:

Redmond Welch, Supt. of Police.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly have the following read at all roll calls:

I desire to caution the members of the police department, in relation to their manner of addressing citizens or others with whom they come in contact, in the performance of their respective duties. While clothed in important authority the police officer is a public servant and should employ civility and common courtesy in his dealings with the public. The fact that a man may have violated the law does not warrant brutality of action or speech on the part of the officer apprehending him.

Firmness and authority can be expressed as forcibly in mild language as in threatening or profane talk, while mild language

may be made impressive to the humblest citizen. This statement applies to all members of the department without regard to rank. Continued to last page

ATTACKS THE TARIFF BILL

Cotton Schedule Is Criticized by Sen. Lippitt of Rhode Island

Says It Discriminates Against the Luxuries of the New Englander

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Attacking the cotton schedule of the tariff bill in the senate today, Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island declared that it discriminated against the luxuries of the New Englander in favor of southern-made necessities.

"It is a bill made by southerners," said he. "I do believe that in the consideration of these schedules the gentlemen of the south have had the ear of the committee and the result is shown in this bill with the products of the south protected. I do not in the least object to that but I also think they at least should have been willing to give consideration of the luxuries of the cotton trade even if they are made in New England.

"The rates are out of balance. They are just the capricious and haphazard result of a desire to do something and in the shuffle cotton got the worst of it, very much the worse than was meant or understood."

Senator Lippitt proposed a substitute for the cotton schedule the rates of the Dingley bill less 20 per cent, which would leave the average duties of 20.40 per cent, as against the rates in the pending bill ranging from 7.12 to 20 per cent.

GRAYS GET TO NEW BROCKTON, PITCHER

Succeed in Solving Chaney's Shoots and Score Four Runs in Third Inning

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Lowell	0	0	4	3
Brockton	2	0	0	1

Lowell and Brockton were the opponents at Spaulding park this afternoon and there were present about 500 people, including a large number of the fair sex, as this was ladies' day. Chaney, a former Red Sox pitcher, was in the box for the visiting team with Daum on the receiving end. Maybom started the twirling for Lowell with Daly behind the bat. The weather was ideal for baseball and Umpire White called the game at 3 o'clock.

The lineup was as follows:

Lowell	Brockton
1st Mahoney	1st Mahoney
2nd Dowd	2nd Dowd
3rd Rutledge	3rd Rutledge
4th Howard	4th Howard
5th McKoon	5th McKoon
6th McMahon	6th McMahon
7th Flaherty	7th Flaherty
8th Daum	8th Daum
9th Chaney	9th Chaney

Maloney grounded out to Aubrey. Dowd batted a single to center. Rutledge singled to right. Rufange started for second base and Daly threw to Aubrey and Dowd who had gone to third on Rufange's single, started for home. Aubrey's throw to Daly was wide and Dowd scored. Rufange being safe at second. Howard walked. On a wild pitch, Rutledge went to third. Miller repeated the play that scored Dowd, his throw being very poor and Rufange scored. McKoon struck out and McMahon fled out to Clemens.

Clemens walked. Aubrey hit Flaherty and Clemens was forced out at second and Dowd completed a double. DeGroot struck out.

Score: Lowell 4, Brockton 2.

Halstein made a brilliant catch of McKoon's liner. McMahon tripled to the left-center field fence. Flaherty hit one along the third base line which was made to the plate allowed McMahon to score and Flaherty to reach second. Daum walked. Chaney fled out to Clemens in short center. Maloney hit to Dee and Flaherty was forced out at third.

Dee fled out. Maybom dropped a Texas leaguer into left center; Clemens dropped one into Maloney's glove, but the latter muffed the ball. His throw to second would have forced out Maybom, but Dowd dropped the ball. Aubrey fled out to Dowd. DeGroot fired the ball to the center field fence for a home run, driving in Maybom and Clemens ahead of him. It was one of the longest hits that was ever made at Spaulding park. Magee fumbled to Flaherty. The latter's catch was a beauty.

Score: Lowell 7, Brockton 3.

THOMAS TALBOT HALL
North Billerica, Friday Evening
All that is the latest in music.

MRS. LAMBEER SENDS MESSAGE TO DEAD HUSBAND—INQUEST TOMORROW

LONG BEACH, I. I., Aug. 6.—William K. Vanderhill, Jr., the first witness in the inquiry held yesterday at the Nassau hotel by Chairman Martin S. Decker of the public service commission, told a graphic story of the events Sunday night which led to and followed the fatal collision of J. Decker's automobile with a Long Island train at the Wreck Land crossing, resulting in the deaths of Mr. Pell, William Lambeer, and Charles Gambeen, the chauffeur.

Mr. Vanderhill said Mr. Pell himself drove the machine. He himself did not know there had been an accident until he came up to the crossing and found the road blocked by the train. When leaving Mr. Pell, who was with him in his machine, he walked forward, discovered that the friends who had been his dinner guests were killed, and hurried Mrs. Pell back to the hotel before she should hear that her husband was killed.

Mr. Vanderhill said he did not hear any whistle by the locomotive nor did he see the train approaching. When he observed it later he did not notice the cars were not lighted, as reported.

George T. Easton, motorman of the train, testified that he sounded the whistle 1300 feet from the crossing, shut off power and allowed his train

ARMY OF 7000 LEAVES TO OPERATE AGAINST REBELS

Reported That Castro Has 12,000 Men Under His Command—Telephone Communications Interrupted

CARACAS, Venezuela, Aug. 6.—An army of 7000 men, comprising three brigades, divided into seven regiments of infantry and one of artillery, left Caracas yesterday to operate against the rebel followers of ex-President Cipriano Castro. The brigade commanders are General Emilio Fernandez, General David Gimen and General Tomas Urduecia. General Felix Galarza has been appointed chief of staff of the army. A medical corps, with Sisters of Charity acting as nurses, accompanied the government's fighting forces.

President Juan Vicente Gomez left the capital today and will lead the army to Maracay, on the railroad 50 miles southwest of Caracas. During his absence campaigning Dr. Jose Gil Portoni, president of the federal council, will act as chief executive of the republic.

An unknown steamship which is presumed to belong to Cipriano Castro is reported to have passed Lagualra. Telegraphic communication between Caracas and Maracay is interrupted.

Castro Has 12,000 Men

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Aug. 6.—Ex-President Cipriano Castro, in his revolutionary campaign to overthrow the Gomez administration and to regain the presidency of Venezuela, has under his command, according to the latest advices received here, 12,000 men.

General Castro is reported to have been received enthusiastically by the people when he landed at Cora, in the state of Falcon. He is now said to be marching against Barquisimeto, the capital of the state of Lara, at the head of a force estimated to total 1000 men.

Two of Castro's adherents, General Rosario Gonzalez and General Penuela, who crossed into Venezuelan territory from the Colombian frontier with 3000 followers, are reported to be augmenting their rebel army as they proceed through the inland towns.

Naphtha and Celluloid Blew Up With Roar at Reading

People in the Vicinity Dodged Iron Barrels and Shower of Bricks

READING, Aug. 6.—People in the immediate vicinity of the Sanford mills dodged iron barrels and a shower of bricks yesterday afternoon when the large storehouse in the mill yard blew up with a roar that was heard for miles, causing a damage of $20,000.

Heavy iron barrels, containing 50 gallons of a mixture of naphtha, lamp-black and solvent, went flying through the air like cannon balls.

The brick walls of the storehouse showered the neighborhood in a radius of several hundred yards.

No one was in the building at the time, as the plant, which manufactures artificial leather, has been shut down for several days. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The storehouse, a one-story brick building with a roof of steel construction, was wrecked. Three of the walls were blown away like paper and the roof was tossed 50 feet into the air and dropped in a vast lot.

There were 55 barrels of the lamp-black mixture and 10 gallons of celluloid in the building at the time. Twenty-five of the barrels exploded. Some of the others were hurled through the main factory building, in which 500 panes of glass were broken.

MEN FELL DOWN PRECIPICE

COURMAYEUR, Italy, Aug. 6.—Jenkins A. Stuart of Baltimore had a narrow escape from death yesterday morning while climbing Mount Blanc with two Swiss guides, one of which was killed when a fall of ice from the glacier threw the three men who were roped together down a precipice. Mr. Stuart and one of the guides managed to save themselves.

SALISBURY BEACH

Amesbury Woman Refuses to Quit Her Cottage and Is Being Sued—Isn't It Awful!

Another development in the controversy over the ownership of cottages at Salisbury beach resulting from their alleged seizure by the Salisbury Beach Associates because of the failure of owners to purchase the land on which they are located occurred Saturday when a constable served summonses upon Miss Letitia Stokes of Methuen and Mrs. Elizabeth Duane of Lawrence in a criminal process for alleged trespasses.

Miss Stokes and Mrs. Duane appeared before Judge Reddy in the Amesbury district court yesterday morning and entered pleas of not guilty to the charges against them. After hearing the evidence Judge Reddy continued the cases for disposition until Thursday morning.

Miss Stokes owned for many years a double cottage on the beach and she is occupying one side and Mrs. Duane's family are tenants of the other. Recently George W. Cutler of Lawrence served notice upon them to vacate, claiming that he had purchased the land upon which the building stands, the sale carrying with it the buildings. Their failure to comply resulted in resort to court proceedings.

Miss Stokes claimed that her lease, which expired in May, 1912, dated back from the Commonwealth, and she has a receipt from Adolphus J. Brissette, a Haverhill real estate operator, purporting to confirm a sale of the land for a consideration of $175 after the expiration of the lease.

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kelly, of 600 School street. Mrs. Kelly was formerly Miss Julia F. Burke, who served for a long time, as cashier at Page's Spa.

STACKS OF TROUBLE

In a Hayfield in North Billerica and It is Up to the Court to Stow Them Away

The Biggerstaffs and the Martins, both Billerica families, had quite a session yesterday afternoon in the police court. Mr. Biggerstaff and Mr. Martin were both charged with assault and battery upon a member of the other's family and the entire afternoon was consumed by the case without a settlement being reached.

The trouble grew out of an inter-family squabble in a hay field which is between the two houses of the families. Trouble had been brewing between them for some time but this affair was the culmination. Each family wanted to get possession of the field at the same time and the result was an inevitable clash. Blows were struck, harsh words exchanged and blood was spilled on both sides.

It required the services of Dr. Maurice A. Buck and the ambulance to restore the members of the respective families wounded in battle.

W. A. Hogan appeared as counsel for Mrs. Biggerstaff and Frank Goldman appeared for Mr. Martin. The case was uncompleted at five o'clock when court adjourned and will be continued next Monday in the regular session of police court.

NUMBER PLEASE PROVES SUCCESS

Telephone Users Affected by Tone of Exchange Operators

Man With Grouch Becomes a Real Nice Man

How many times a day do you say "Please?" Of course, when you ask for a second place of pie for dinner you smile and say "Please," and there are many other times, but it is safe to say you don't say it more than 25 times during the ordinary day.

They don't say it asking for pie or merely as a request for don-bons. They say, as perhaps you have already noted: "Number, please."

They are the telephone operators in the exchanges of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company. The rule requiring the operators to say "Number, please," went into effect, officially, a few days ago. The telephone operator who works the usual period, daily answers about 800 calls a day. When the little red lights shine brightly before her, she "plugs in" and sweetly murmurs: "Number, please."

Some men—they are very few—had the impression when the rule was first made that the winsome maid on the other end of the wire was trying to start a flirtation. They perhaps flattered themselves that their voice was deep and manly. The telephone girl never flirts, that is, over the telephone.

Patrons Pleased

Manager Leathers has noticed a difference in the attitude of the subscribers since the ruling went into effect. It is perhaps interesting to note the number of users of the telephone who come back with the "please" after giving the number desired. Before the "number, please" rule was started the operator said "number" and subscriber gave it. He perhaps gave it as if he was talking to a machine, a part of the wire more likely, because the telephone girl is like a machine, a cog in an immense machine. He never thought of saying "1111-X, please." He little thought it would act as an incentive for quicker service.

A telephone operator who has been at the same board for several years said today: "For two years I had a man on my board who was the worst grouch I ever heard. He yelled into the receiver and grunted his numbers. During two days after the new rule he gradually softened and on the third day, when I answered a call, he said "200, please." Now he talks like a real nice man."

Time Taken

How much time does it take to say "please?" It doesn't take much time to say it once. But saying it time and time again during the day requires time. One may say it took a half a second to say "please," along with "number." If such is the case the telephone girl answering 800 calls takes up 400 seconds of time. In other words she requires six minutes and 40 seconds more a day in doing her work. Although these are the figures, the telephone operators themselves, and the officials, say it takes no extra time to say the required "please." They claim that no time is lost and that they are able to do as much work just as rapidly as before. If this is so with the operators, it must also apply to the subscriber who is polite enough to say please.

The "please" is said only to the person using the phone. In calling a person out of town, the operators call the central office in that town and give the operator the number as formerly, without the "please." This rule is made because the operator called would nearly half of the time think the one calling said "2222 ring three," as please sounds similar some times to three.

RENT EXCEEDS SALARY

Ambassador to Germany to Consult Pres. Wilson

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, with his wife and her sister, the Countess Anton Sligay, left for Hamburg at noon today to embark on the America for the United States tomorrow. Mr. Gerard succeeded, aided by the newspaper versions of the house-hunting difficulties in finding two suitable houses for his residence in Berlin. One of them is in the aristocratic Tiergarten district and the other near the center of the city. The rental of each is about $19,000 annually, thus exceeding the ambassador's salary by $1500. Each one of the residences contains ample room for the embassy offices and private quarters as well as for entertaining purposes. Mr. Gerard will, before deciding on taking a lease of a house discuss the situation with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan when he comes to Washington.

VETERAN FIREMEN MET IN BOSTON

Fred Rourke Elected Chief Marshal of Muster Parade

FRED H. ROURKE

A meeting of the members of the New England Veteran Firemen's association was held in Boston yesterday with President James H. Walker of this city in the chair. The various committees in charge of the arrangements of the muster which is to be held in this city on Aug. 28, reported progress, and the chairman appointed the following committee to act as judges for the muster: Capt. Hurley of Lowell, Capt. Shallow of Boston, Edward Walker of Somerville, M. Whitman of Cranston, R. L. Erskins of Alhambra, R. L. Charles Tobin of Salem, William Maybury of Braintree, Geo. Cushing of Hingham, John Hardigan of Newton. The timekeeper will be W. Adamson of East Boston.

It was announced that the positions for the parade and the muster would be given the night of Aug. 27, at the headquarters, Park hotel.

Play-Out on Common

One thousand people gathered on the North common last evening to witness the play-out between the crews of the Gen. Butler V. F. A., maiming the old mascot, "City of Lowell," that holds the world's championship with a record of 350 feet 6 inches, and the new mob "Liberty," a recent arrival from Gold Hill, Nevada.

The contest was won by the "Liberty," 155 sticks, foreman, with a play of 730 feet 4 inches. The city of Lowell, James Curry, foreman, made a play of 201 feet 6 inches.

After the contest, a reunion of present and former members was held at the rooms and a pleasant evening was passed with song and story.

The muster committee in charge of the league muster to be held in Lowell Thursday, Aug. 28, 1913, held their regular weekly meeting, with Chairman James H. Walker presiding.

See H. E. Clay reported circulars

and entry blanks would be mailed this week, and from indications, about 45 machines would be in line that day.

Mr. Fred H. Rourke accepted an invitation to be chief marshal of the parade that day, in a neat speech, promising to do all in his power to further the welfare of the muster.

Mr. Wm. W. Murphy reported for the league meeting, which he had attended, that great interest had been shown in the muster to be held at the home of the league president, James H. Walker, and a good turnout was assured.

The finance committee again appeals to the people of Lowell to contribute towards an affair that will bring 100,000 people to our city.

On next Tuesday evening, the "Liberty" crew will give a return match to the crew of the city of Lowell on the North common.

AUTO CRASHED INTO A TREE

Woman Probably Fatally Injured—Others Had Narrow Escape

Mrs. Fisher Loses Control of Machine in Winchester

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—One woman was hurt, perhaps fatally, while another and two men escaped death by the barest margin yesterday when an automobile owned by E. L. Gillette, a wealthy carriage manufacturer of Somerville, crashed into a tree on Forest street, Winchester, spilling all of its occupants.

Gillette was not in the car. Mrs. Minnie Fisher, 61, West Rutland square, this city, was at the wheel. She lost control, and before any of her companions could grasp the wheel the machine ploughed its way zig-zag across the street and fetched up against the tree.

Mrs. Fisher was catapulted from her seat and landed on her head several feet away. She was picked up unconscious with a crushed chest and severe internal injuries. Peter H. Babin of 15 Whitney park, Mattapan, who was riding on the front seat with her, and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Marshall, Gillette's daughter and son-in-law, who were riding in the tonneau, were hurled to the ground.

Babin, however, was the only one severely injured. He sustained a broken knee-cap and was taken to the Winchester hospital. Later he was removed to a hospital in Mattapan.

Several persons were attracted by the accident, and after Mrs. Fisher had been placed in a cooling auto and taken to her home, it was reported last night that her condition was serious.

The party had been motoring in Stoneham and was proceeding at a fairly high rate of speed down Forest street. As a corner was rounded, Mrs. Fisher saw a steamroller and a watering cart directly ahead. Confused for the moment, she pressed hard on the accelerator instead of the brake and before she could rectify the mistake lost control. The car dodged in and out between the steamroller and the watering cart and climbed an embankment by the roadside before it struck the tree.

SCATTERED POWDER IGNITED BY MATCHES

Manchester Man Was Seriously Injured By Explosion—Had Tamped Charge Into Boulder

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 6.—Oscar Peppin, who lives at the Merrimack hotel, was seriously injured just outside the city yesterday when a charge which he was setting off, prematurely exploded, blowing away part of his jaw and inflicting other serious injuries.

Peppin had tamped a charge into a boiler and was applying a match to the fuse. Inadvertently he had scattered a few grains of powder around the hole. When he applied the match the whole charge immediately exploded.

FIRE BREAKS UP CAMP MEETING AT YARMOUTH

400 Attending Methodist Exercises Fled—Forest Fires Destroyed 20 Square Miles of Woodland

YARMOUTH, Aug. 6.—Four hundred persons attending the annual Methodist camp meeting near here fled from their devotional exercises yesterday afternoon when a south wind sprang up and turned the forest fire that was advancing threateningly upon West Yarmouth so that it bore down upon them.

While between 500 and 600 cape residents, summer and permanent, fought the flames that have already destroyed 20 square miles of valuable woodland, the camp meeting attendants left the tabernacle hurriedly in the midst of a service, gathered up their belongings into any and every available vehicle of transportation, and scattered to Yarmouth and Hyannis.

SHE IS SANE

SWANSCOTT WOMAN LIBERATED AT LYNN

Taken Into Custody But Freed by Court—Wrote Letter Threatening to Create Scene at Wedding

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Annie L. R. Mahoney of Swanscott is releasing the congratulations of friends over her acquittal in the Lynn court of the charge of insanity, for which she had been taken into custody.

After an examination by two physicians, Drs. J. F. O'Shea and J. A. Jones, the woman was discharged.

"I thank God that the curse that has been over me for seven years has been lifted, and my persecutors can no longer hound me, and put me in a wrong light before the public by claiming I am insane," declared Mrs. Mahoney as she came from the court room.

In ordering her discharge the court warned Mrs. Mahoney against writing letters which might annoy persons to whom she had sent letters or directed her language.

Mrs. Mahoney first came into public attention when she threatened to create a scene at the wedding of Assistant United States District Attorney E. Mark Sullivan, which took place at Syracuse, N. Y. She attempted to have Mr. Sullivan arrested on a simple charge of larceny, but a warrant was refused by the courts.

DENHAM, Aug. 6.—James B. It is claimed that after following the girl from Boston he drew a revolver in front of her home and told her that he intended to shoot her.

The young man and the girl, who works in the millinery department of the store where McAviney is a cashier, have been keeping company for some time, but a few days ago had a quarrel.

UNKNOWN CHILD

$50 Awarding Little Girl Who Picked Up Diamond Brooch at Salisbury Recently

Chief of Police Samuel Beckman of Salisbury has $50 in his pocket, waiting for some little girl, but he does not know who she is, and the money is going to stay in the police station safe until the child appears, together with the proof that she is the one who found the valuable diamond brooch lost last Saturday at Salisbury beach by Mrs. Nelson Morris, wife of the wealthy Chicago packer.

Mrs. Morris lost the brooch Saturday when she stepped from her auto to visit the beach. Upon discovering the loss, a reward of $50 was offered, and posters announcing it were spread over the beach.

A little girl found the brooch, which was a diamond studded crescent. She gave it to a police officer, who returned it to Mrs. Morris. The $50 was immediately sent to Chief Beckman, and he is now awaiting the child's appearance.

HIGH DUTY FOR AUTOS

45 Per Cent. Tariff Rate
on First Grade Cars

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Senate democrats succeeded yesterday for the first time in speeding up consideration of the tariff bill, making considerable progress in the metal schedule, despite protests of Senators Oliver, Smith of Michigan, Cummins and Smoot against many of the rates.

Automobile Rates

Chief opposition centered in the rates on automobiles, which the committee fixed at 15 per cent. on cars valued at $1000 or less, 25 per cent. on cars valued at more than $1000 and less than $1500, 45 per cent. on cars valued at $1500 and over, and 30 per cent. on automobile parts. Senators Cummins and Smoot both insisted that the rates on completed cars would be useless, because all foreign cars would be brought in at the 20 per cent. rate in parts. Senator Thomas for the finance committee said he could see no calamity if all automobiles came in at 20 per cent. The other rates, Senator Cummins asserted, were a "mere pretence," and he advocated a flat duty on all automobiles of 25 per cent. Senator Williams remarked "there are a lot of fools in this country that will insist upon completed foreign cars, thinking they are better, and these rates are fixed for them."

The rates were not changed.

HOSPITAL UP TO STATE

Fall River Too Poor, Says
Dr. Gifford

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The state to construct and maintain tuberculosis hospitals in cities and towns was the advice given the state house committee investigating the matter by Dr. John H. Gifford, vice president of the Fall River chamber of commerce.

The committee yesterday took up the case of Fall River, which, like many other cities, has failed to build a hospital and is liable to prosecution by the state board of health.

Dr. Gifford declared it to be impossible in the case of Fall River and explained his views in detail. His suggestion of state tuberculosis hospitals is regarded as an important one by the members of the committee who are to make a report to the next legislature.

Dr. Gifford said that Fall River was spending $50,000 a year for the work. It cannot borrow money for a hospital because it has already borrowed up to its debt limit. To use the money now used for the care of patients would deprive them of treatment.

He urged that the state should either assume the burden of the construction of the hospitals or provide a subsidy. He said that if the state can pay five-ninths of the maintenance of hospitals, as it does today, it can pay five-ninths of the cost of construction. Dr. Gifford said that of 1515 cases treated at state sanitarium last year 500 came from Boston and only 20 from Fall River. He emphasized the point that Boston cases get into the hospitals and that patients from other places did not.

He said that it would be most unwise to have the state board of health enforce the law requiring cities and towns to build hospitals.

TAME FINISH

BERLIN COURT MARTIAL CONVICTS
SEVEN MEN

No Officer of High Rank Found Guilty—Were Charged With Accepting Bribes

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 6.—The sensational charge that officials of the Prussian war office had accepted bribes from the Krupp company in return for military documents, which were made in the Reichstag in April by Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the socialist deputy, came to a rather tame ending yesterday with the conviction by court-martial of seven unimportant persons connected with the ordnance board, of whom the highest ranked only as junior lieutenants. The convicted men were charged specifically with betraying military secrets, the acceptance of bribes and insubordination.

Lieut. Tilius was sentenced to two months' imprisonment; Lieut. Schleuder and Lieut. Hinst each to four months, and Lieut. Hoge to serve 43 days in a fortress. Tilius, Schleuder and Hinst in addition lose their commissions.

I. W. W. RIOTERS JAILED

Men Arrested During
Strike Trouble

BROCKTON, Aug. 6.—In police court yesterday afternoon, Judge Reed imposed jail sentences on the four men arrested following the riot July 29 in front of the W. W. Cross tack factory where an I. W. W. strike is on.

Patrolman Bryan testified that one of the men sentenced, Peter Markarawicz, 42 years old, of 116 Ames street, had said at the police station after his arrest that one of the I. W. W. organizers in charge of the strike passed around word to "start something" on the afternoon of the riot, and that it was generally understood an attempt was to be made to kill L. Eason, a special policeman on guard at the factory and especially disliked by the strikers.

Officer Bryan's testimony was corroborated in its essentials by George Romanus, the Lithuanian interpreter of the police court, who talked with Markarawicz following the latter's arrest. The name of the organizer was not mentioned in court.

Markarawicz denied yesterday that he had made the statements attributed to him, and insisted that he had been picking blueberries when caught in the swirl of the riot. The I. W. W. organizers in Brockton on the day of the riot were Caleb F. Howard, who acted as counsel for the defendants yesterday under power of attorney, and Leo J. Griekas. The riot followed attempts on the part of the strikers to molest those who had remained at work, when they were filing out at the close of work in the afternoon. Markarawicz was sentenced to two months for disturbance; Zeider Yaka-bowicz, 21 years old, 23 Sawtell avenue, to four months for disturbance; Sylvester Kurpas, 47 years old, of 18 1-2 Arthur street, to two months for disturbance, and one month for assault on Patrolman Bryan. All the defendants appealed. They were allowed to go to their homes last night under their present bonds, and today appeared in court again to make arrangements for their bonds pending the fate of their appeals. The sentences will be imposed again, as a formality, today.

Several chambers of commerce also are reluctant in the matter owing to the losses to merchants brought about by the Chinese revolution and the recent rebellion.

RESCUED AFTER 72 HOURS

Little Chicago Girl Locked in Closet of a Vacant House While She Was at Play

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—After being locked in a closet in a vacant house nearly 72 hours, 5-year-old Annie Newman was released from her prison yesterday afternoon, so weak from the want of food that it is feared she will die.

Together with several others the child was playing hide and seek Saturday afternoon in a vacant house four doors from her home at East Chicago, Ind. She hid in the closet and closed the door, which had been recently varnished. She was found yesterday by a real estate agent who was showing prospective buyers through the house. The door had stuck and the girl had been unable to open it.

A VERY HEROIC ACT

Young Greek Displays True Spartan Spirit

AND AN ERSTWHILE FRANTIC WOMAN RESIGNED MUCH

Demothenes Dashed Into the Thames—No, Not the Thames, the Canal, and Rescued a 'Toy Spindle'

A little unknown American dog owns his life to the fact that Demothenes Georgopoulos came here to get a job in the Tremont & Suffolk mills. In fact imaginative people can see a connection between the brave rescue and the fact that Demothenes was looking the other way when the king of Greece called for volunteers to fight the Bulgarians. "There are more things in heaven and earth," but the quotation is overworked, so we wisely refrain.

To return to our story: It was not as a long distance swimmer that the brave Greek made the rescue—it was merely as a wader. Yet the success of the rescue very probably depended on the fact that he was familiar with the canal bottom, having washed his feet there many times. The story comes from an aviator who had stopped his aeroplane on top of the Regent mill chimney and was forced to look in the direction of the Suffolk canal to avoid getting smashed. This is the story: Demothenes Georgopoulos was admiring the canal from his perch of the Fenwick street bridge one evening recently when a woman rushed up to him with horror written in every feature. Not knowing Greek, she made some frantic signs in the direction of the canal that made the brave Greek think she had a desire to enact a "September Morn." He waited a soul for the aesthetic, he waited and gradually realized that the woman wished him to save her dog, which was slowly but surely being overcome in the swirling waters. What did Demothenes do? Listen all ye who admire brave and modest deeds. He ran down the bank and waded to the struggling animal. Deeper and deeper the water grew. Now it was up to his knees, now to his waist, now to his armpits, now—but no. With one wild swoop and a cry of victory he seized the quivering animal and brought it safely to shore. The dog did not need even artificial respiration, but the woman had to be doused several times in the canal water before she acted normally. She turned four handspins and danced the tango with Demothenes in the excess of her joy.

Demothenes did not have a vesting card and he did not take the address of either dog or the woman. But when that dog grows up, if he is the right sort of a dog, and if he is intelligent enough to be grateful for favors received, he may realize that Demothenes' emigration to America, his failure to go to the war and the fact that he was loafing that evening, were due to some special dispensation of the Greek gods. And perhaps it was. Who can tell?

Unfortunately before this story goes to press news comes that the little dog was a toy which the woman won on the common last July 4th. It somewhat spoils the story, but it detracts nothing from the brave deed of Demothenes Georgopoulos.

BUILD 28,000 TON DREADNOUGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The 28,000 ton Argentine dreadnaught Rivadavia arrived in New York early today from the Fore River shipbuilding yards, Quincy, Mass., where she was constructed to go into the drydock at the Brooklyn navy yard to be painted. The government extended the use of the drydock, the one at Fore River not being large enough, to accommodate the Rivadavia. On the trip from Boston the battleship was manned by a crew of 500 men from the Fore River works and had on board a party of Argentine naval officers. When the work at the navy yard is finished she will have her trials off Rockland, Me.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Wilson's action in sending former Governor John Lind to Mexico as a special emissary in the present situation was attacked in the senate today by Senator Clark of Wyoming, who declared "something else must be done by the administration to guarantee adequate protection to Americans."

Senator Clark presented a resolution for an immediate investigation by the senate foreign relations committee of the condition of American citizens and American property in Mexico. "This resolution is not introduced in a spirit of hostility to the administration or of criticism of the foreign relations committee," declared the senator, "but conditions are growing steadily worse in Mexico. Now we learn that Governor Lind has been sent there by President Wilson. That does not satisfy."

"Mr. Lind does not go as the official representative of the United States; he does not go as an ambassador, clothed with authority to represent the United States. He cannot be appealed to by American citizens for protection. Some other steps are necessary to give to Americans and American property the protection they need and are demanding."

The home of Mrs. Annie Plimpton, 6 Favor street, was the scene of a pretty party last night when a large number of friends of Miss Ethel French gathered there and showered her with many beautiful and useful gifts. During the evening the musical selections were given by Miss Annie M. Young, John, Miss Mabel Sykes and Mr. Everett Nix. The party broke up at a reasonable hour after a very enjoyable evening. Miss French is soon to become a bride.

Canobie Lake Park

In her practice at the swimming pool at Canobie Lake park, Ross Pittman is having lots of fun, disporting herself in the water and on the diving board with the folks who like the water, and during her stay at the park she has been teaching people how to swim of her high dives and her swimming strokes. Ross declares that she is just about to know how to swim, and in case of an emergency, and that is why she is giving so much of her vacation time to her girl friends who visit the pool. Ross has but little time to exercise, as she is so busy in the water and she has found it to ho her greatest sport to have other girls join her, and the boys, too, for she likes to have the big pool pretty well filled when she is in her element.

For a morning exercise she swims a couple of hours and then she goes back for an afternoon's fun and again in the evening she swims up, fairly lively in the swimming pool and finding it the greatest fun she ever had.

Miss Pittman is getting ready for her greatest effort—the swim from New York to Sandy Hook—and she wants lots of practice and because the swimming pool at Canobie lake park offers her every advantage she is going to remain all this week.

delivery wagon and returned a few minutes later, and went down cellar. A few minutes later a revolver report was heard, and the clerks fearing something had happened, called Patrolman Clemens and informed him of the noise from the cellar.

Patrolman Clemens hurried to the basement, and there found Mr. Adams lying on the floor with a 32 calibre revolver by his side. He made a quick examination of the man and found he was breathing his last. There was a bullet wound on the top of the head, and when the revolver was examined it was found two shots had been fired. It is presumed that both bullets lodged at the same place in the man's skull. Patrolman Clemens said he believed Mr. Adams was sitting in a chair when he fired the two shots, for the body was found near the chair. The ambulance was called and the dead man was removed to St. John's hospital.

In Railroad Wreck

Mrs. Beatha Adams, wife of deceased, was seen later by the writer, and in the course of the conversation, said her husband had been very nervous of late, especially since his trip out of town, and she was sure he was in a railroad wreck, and this Mrs. Adams believes was the cause of his unusual nervousness. She said his business was very good, but he was not taking a much needed rest, and after taking a much needed rest, the family were to remove to the west. Mrs. Adams said her husband was in the best of spirits last night and retired early. "This morning," she said, "he went out at 5:45 o'clock and did not return to the house, for he was in the habit of eating his breakfast at the store. To my knowledge he never owned a revolver, and I am at a loss to know where he secured the weapon with which he ended his life. His business affairs were good, but the trouble was that he overworked himself."

The deceased was a prominent member of the City of Lowell and Centralville, I. O. O. F., and was also very prominent in amateur theatricals. As a matter of fact, he was connected with almost every social event conducted in that part of Centralville. He resided at 36 Third street, and is survived by a wife, Beatha, a daughter,

GOV. RALSTON ON FIRST VACATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 6.—Governor Samuel M. Ralston started yesterday on the first vacation he has ever had, and the governor is 56 years old. He will spend two weeks in Massachusetts at the summer home of Thomas Taggart, democratic national committeeman from Indiana. The governor has always been busy. As a boy, he says, the school vacation meant work on the farm for him and as a lawyer at first he was too busy building up his practice to take a vacation and later was so busy with his practice that he did not have time for a vacation. Since becoming the state's executive Mr. Ralston has had the legislature, the legislature to contend with and has kept close to the office. The governor was accompanied by Mrs. Ralston and little daughter, Ruth, and says he is going to do nothing but rest.

MAYOR CAUTIONS POLICE

to the superior officer as well as to the supernumerary, to the house officers who are daily called upon to give information and assistance either in the presence of the party addressing them or over the telephone, and to the outside men on duty for information or assistance. The police officer is expected to be promptly and cheerfully all information or assistance with his knowledge and power, even to the extent of putting himself to inconvenience. I have received several complaints of lack of civility, gruffness and profanity on the part of officers in addressing citizens, but I have refrained from taking any disciplinary action, feeling confident that after cautioning the members of the department there will be no further cause for complaint.

Try Gyarcol for Your Rheumatism

Gyarcol cures rheumatism in the natural way, by driving out the uric acid which causes all the pain and trouble. Many Lowell people who have used Gyarcol successfully for rheumatism have written us letters endorsing its merits. If you have rheumatism, remember this is absolutely the best time of the year to drive it out of your system, and Gyarcol is absolutely the best way to drive it out. Fifty cents at your druggists.

WOMEN TO WAGE VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Looking on the district of Columbia as an excellent ground for prospecting, members of the national council of women voters which meets here next week announced today that they would wage a vigorous street speaking campaign in the hope of making converts for the "cause." Suffragists of national reputation will preach the suffragist articles of faith on the street corners every evening for the next ten days and the crusade may be continued even longer. The campaign really was launched last night when a big meeting in Pennsylvania avenue was addressed by Miss Boardman of Boston, Miss Doris Stevens of Dayton and Miss Jessie H. Stubbs of Chicago.
